MANY things are as Brigham Young would have them and as he left them. D. E. SPENCER, general passenger agent of the Union Pacific System, now shows you the Angel Moroni and almost tells you what that angel thinks. Says all intelligent humans should see the famous "Death Valley." The Union Pacific has arranged for you to see it without danger of leaving your bones in the valley.

For $12, covering all expenses, you can spend two days motoring through the mysterious valley on your way east or west, inspecting in safety the strangest place on earth, stopping over night at a modern inn, built on Furnace Creek.

In Death Valley you stand on the warm sand, far below the level of the Pacific, and look to the west, at the white top of Mount Whitney, highest peak in the United States.

The trip must be made between October and the middle of May. In summer Death Valley is the hottest place on earth—not fit for a tourist unless used to roughing it on the rear platform of an observation car. During the season Valley season, just opened by the Union Pacific, you have your own automobiles, Death Valley Inn, with swimming pool, electric light and steam in every room.

• • •

You study brilliant colors of the appropriately named "Funeral Range" to the east, and to the west the tall peaks. Uncle Sam's most perfect mountain range, rising from the floor of Death Valley, more than 14,000 feet below sea level, to a height of 11,000 feet, to the perpetual snow of Telescope Peak.

Picturesque and convincing are names given in that valley once the bed of a vast sea. Last Chance Mountain and Grapevine Mountains close the south end of the valley. The Great Borax Mine of former times is there. Also silver, copper, onyx are in the hills.

SINKING FUND GETS $24,500 FROM AUDITOR

Danger of Revenue Shortage Practically Eliminated by Money Transfer

$25,000 IN RESERVE

Amount Equal to Original Deficit in Delinquent Assessments, Claim

Danger of Marion's city government being handicapped by lack of sufficient revenue during 1927 was practically eliminated yesterday when City Auditor J. L. Landes turned over to the sinking fund $24,500 for use in payment of bonds and interest falling due this year.

The money, accumulated in the city treasury from balances remaining in street improvement construction accounts, will be used in meeting sinking fund obligations. Recently City Treasurer Asa Queen announced that sinking fund receipts from assessments and taxes would be $40,000 short of the amount of bonds and interest coming due this year and that unless additional revenue could be obtained, the $40,000 would have to be taken from funds previously appropriated for the city's operating expenses.

$501 Transferred

Last week the city auditor transferred $501 to the sinking fund from the sanitary sewer system construction account, this being the balance left from the sale of bonds after all construction expense had been paid.

This means that the sinking fund has received $25,501 from construction account balances, leaving only $15,000 of the $40,000 shortage estimated for this year. In making appropriations for operating the city, council set aside $25,000 in contingent accounts to be used only for emergencies. As it is not likely that much of this money will be needed for operations, $15,000 can be transferred to the sinking fund without handicapping any of the city's departments or offices, councilmen state.

Construction account balances making up the $24,500 transferred to the sinking fund yesterday resulted from bond issues exceeding the actual cost of street improvements, City Auditor Landes states. Most of these improvements are pavings, sewers and sidewalks constructed last year, a few having been put in prior to that time.

Cause of Excess

Amount of the bond issues are based upon the city engineer's estimate of construction work. The law requires that money to pay for improvements be in the treasury before contracts are let and it is necessary for the engineer's estimate to be high enough to assure

JIM REED ACCUSED OF FURTHERING OWN AIMS

Missouri Solon Attacked by Robinson for Senate Fund Investigations

Washington, Feb. 24—In one of the most dramatic debates within recent memory, Senator James A. Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, was charged in the senate this afternoon with having used the senate campaign funds investigations to advance his own aspirations for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The charges, made by Senator Arthur R. Robinson, Republican, of Indiana, amazed the senate and brought Reed to his feet to make an indignant, sweeping denial.

"I shall take each of the statements made by the senator from Indiana and prove every one of them is absolutely and unqualifiedly false," said Reed.

Robinson fairly stunned the senate by his attack on the veteran Missourian. The Indiana senator attacked the propriety of Reed's "one-man" inquiry, particularly into Indiana. The debate came when Reed offered a resolution asking that the life of his committee be extended until March 4, 1929, and requesting power to open ballot boxes recently seized in Pennsylvania.

"In Indiana," said Robinson, "the investigation degenerated into a garbage wagon with the venerable senator from Missouri on the front seat."

ITALY HAS FEARS

Wants Assurances of Naval Equality With France in Any Parley

Washington, Feb. 24—Italy's real reason for rejecting President Coolidge's disarmament conference proposal was due to the Italian government's unwillingness to engage in any conference without assurance that she would be accorded naval equality with France, it developed here today.

Reports that Italy has made this plain in a "secret note" which accompanied the formal published communication were denied at the state department today. The department admitted, that the Italian ambassador made "certain verbal explanations".

FIREMEN RESCUE FOUR FROM BURNING HOSPITAL

Columbus, Feb. 24—Firemen rescued four persons from a burning private hospital here early today, when smoke cut off the exits of their third floor ward. The four escaped the flames only when Nurse Mayme Clouse attracted the attention of a milkman after the fire had destroyed the hospital telephone. Firemen discovered the fire was caused by a defective flue, resulting in approximately $2,000 loss.

Bonus for Babies

Fred L. Reitz, above, president of the Chamber of Commerce of New Castle, Pa., has a unique way of celebrating his birthday. He offers $5 to the parents of every baby born within the limits of Lawrence county, Pa., on March 12, each year. The offer still holds good for 1927 despite the fact there were nearly a dozen births on his anniversary in 1926. The number has been increasing yearly.

CHESAPEAKE BAY BOAT SINKS IN COLLISION

All Passengers and Crew of S. S. City of Annapolis Taken Off

Baltimore, Feb. 24—The steamer, City of Annapolis, a passenger vessel plying between Baltimore and Chesapeake Bay stations, was sunk this morning in a collision with her sister-ship, the City of Richmond, in the bay, off the mouth of the Potomac River, according to wireless messages to the owners here.

No lives were lost, the messages stated, but the passengers and crew of the Annapolis were taken off by the Richmond and the S. S. St. Anthony, which stood by the sinking vessel.

The collision occurred shortly before 2 a. m. and the Annapolis stayed afloat until about 4 o'clock.

Tells of Rescue

Capt. C. B. Brooks, of the City of Baltimore also rammed while standing by notified the owners that he was an eye witness to the rescue of 103 persons aboard the Annapolis.

Following the crash, he said, the City of Richmond was maneuvered alongside the sinking steamer. A gang plank was hurriedly thrown across both boats and passengers in their night clothes left the City of Annapolis without panic. Standing by was the steamer St. Anthony, but he believed none of the passengers is on that vessel.

The City of Annapolis remained afloat about 1½ hours, steadily sinking and by daylight only two inches of the funnel were visible. Then that, too disappeared, he said, and the vessel is now lying in 60 feet of water.

CITY PLANNING RULE IS PLACED IN EFFECT

New Measure Requiring Signatures of Adjacent Property Owners Becomes Operative

A new rule recently adopted by the City Planning Commission, requiring all applicants for permits to construct business buildings in residence districts to obtain the consent of at least 10 owners of neighboring properties, began operating at a meeting of the commission today.

The meeting was called to receive the application of H. C. Vance, who has requested permission to construct an addition to his dwelling at Silver and Maple-sts in which he plans to open a grocery. Mr. Vance has obtained the signatures of 10 property owners giving their approval to the project. Should his request be acted upon favorably, the Planning Commission will recommend that council grant the building permit.

It had been expected that action would also be taken today on an application recently filed by John Battenfield for a permit to construct a filling station at the corner of Orchard and Columbia-sts. The commission was informed, however, that Mr. Battenfield has decided to abandon the project.

Next Monday night, council will take action on the commission's recent recommendation of commercial district extensions on E. Center, E. Church, S. State, S. Prospect, and S. Main-sts.

Most Important Battle in History of Republic Impending ing at Sunkiang

U. S. TRANSPORT ARRIVES

Thirteen Hundred American Marines Ready To Protect International Quarters

Shanghai, Feb. 24—The most important battle in the history of the Chinese republic seemed impending today as both the Nationalist troops under General Chiang Kai Shek from the south and the Fengtien troops of Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, Manchurian war lord from the north, speeded up their race for military control of Nanking, China's chief seaport.

The vanguard of the northern horde today had reached Wusih, 50 miles from Shanghai, while the Nationalist Cantonese occupied Kashing, 50 miles to the southwest.

Sunkiang appeared to be the probable scene of the impending battle, as the converging lines will meet there.

Make Desperate Attempt

Thirty thousand Fengtien troops already have crossed the Yangtze River in a desperate attempt to stem the Nationalists' northward march.

General Sun Chuan-Fang, hitherto defender of Shanghai who yesterday relinquished control of the city to Chang-Tso-Lin, today conferred at Nanking with General Chang Tsung-Chang, son of Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, and other Fengtien generals regarding a campaign for the purpose of driving the Chekiang province from the Cantonese for Sun Chuan-Fang, and Kiangsu province for Chang Tsung-Chang.

Sun Chuan Fang still controls Sungkiang, and is sending out execution parties to suppress the robberies being committed by deserters of the Sun army who have discarded their uniforms but retained their arms.

The labor union this afternoon called off the strike which was partially paralyzed Shanghai since last Saturday. The cotton mills and other factories immediately resumed full operation, and at the postoffice partial resumption was effected.

U. S. Boat Arrives

The situation in Shanghai native city was more rife today because of the wholesale arrests by the military authorities.

The labor union has announced that a general strike of one hour's duration, called for Monday from 10 to 11 o'clock throughout China, will be observed in Shanghai.

The United States Transport Chaumont arrived today, bringing 1,300 marines for China duty.

YOUTH PLEADS GUILTY TO BURGLARY CHARGES

Orlando McDaniels, 15, Sentenced to Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster

Orland McDaniels, 15, Central Junior High School pupil arrested last week as an alleged accomplice in a burglary at the Miller Bros. grocery and restaurant on Cheney-av, pleaded guilty when arraigned before Juvenile Judge L. B. McNeal, yesterday and was ordered taken to the Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster.

Young McDaniels, taken into custody at school after being named as a participant in the burglary by two other boys who had previously confessed, had been held at the juvenile detention home prior to his arraignment yesterday.

His arrest followed statements made by Charles Redman, 16 and Forest Roush, 17, who were brought here from the Lancaster institution last week to testify at the hearing of James Smith, 18, of Bellefontaine-av, also accused in connection with a burglary at the Miller store. Police say that testimony of the boys disclosed that the Miller place was entered three different times.

Young Smith was bound over to the grand jury and is now out on a $5,000 bond. He denies having participated in the Miller burglary, although accused in testimony of the Redman and Roush boys.

Arrest of young McDaniels made a total of 17 boys taken into custody in the local police department's investigation of juvenile law-breaking.

MAN KILLS SELF AFTER CONFESSING TO MURDER

Calls Reporter to Hotel Room To Tell Story; Family Tragedy

J., Feb. 24—After confessing to a reporter today that he had shot and killed his wife Helen and wounded Deputy Sheriff Abram Kulp in his home in South Longhorne, Pa., Ernest Reiker, 27, shot himself three times in the breast. He is not expected to recover. The shooting of Mrs. Reiker and the deputy sheriff is said to have followed an attempt on the part of the officer to serve Reiker with papers in a divorce suit.

Reiker called the reporter to his room in a hotel by telephone, saying he "had a good story" for him. He displayed a newspaper clipping telling of the shooting of Mrs. Reiker and asked of the reporter knew who he was.

"You're Reiker aren't you?" said the reporter.

Reiker nodded, drew a .32 calibre revolver from his pocket.

"I killed her because I loved her and because I loved my baby," he said, "a woman relative made all the trouble. She broke up our home. She made life hell for me. I was going to jump into the ocean and drown myself but this morning I decided I wanted to tell someone about it."

At this point Reiker started waving his revolver around wildly and the reporter asked to be excused for a moment. Just as he left the room to call police he heard three shots, and hurrying back found Reiker lying beside the bed with three bullet wounds in his chest.

W. H. UNCAPHER IS ELECTED HEAD OF FARM BUREAU

Big Island Township Man Named President of Marion County Group

ANNUAL REPORT GIVEN

Records Presented at Meeting Show 525 Persons Given Service in Year

W. H. Uncapher of Big Island township was elected president of the Marion County Farm Bureau during the afternoon session of that body at Schwinger's Hall yesterday. The session was the annual meeting of the farm bureau members and was featured by one of the largest turnouts the Bureau has had.

Other officers elected were Fred Lasch, of Claridon Township, vice president, Miss Maurine Maxwell, secretary and L. M. Fairchild, treasurer. Roland L. Leeper, former secretary of the farm bureau, will act only as service manager, which position he has held in addition to the other of secretary.

Women Help

The women of the farm bureau membership played a large part in the success of the meeting here yesterday. With the local Kiwanis Club as their guests the women furnished a picnic luncheon that marked one of the high spots of the meeting. One entire end of the hall was cut off by a long table, completely covered with food of all kinds brought by the women.

Some of the women in charge of this end of the affair were Mrs. Fred Lasch, Mrs. Frank Fairchild, Mrs. G. L. Augustine, Mrs. S. J. Mauffer, Mrs. B. W. Van Meter, Mrs. S. J. Martin, Mrs. M. C. Kennedy and Mrs. C. M. Peterson.

The afternoon session also brought the report of Service Manager Leeper on the activities of the Farm Bureau during the last year.

The report showed that 525 persons used some branch of Farm Bureau work in the county during the last year. The Bureau furnished 370 tons of fertilizer, sold to 130 men, including 22 non members. The bureau also handled 27,050 pounds of binder twine, sold to 150 members, and 127 tons of poultry, dairy and miscellaneous feeds, sold to 200 members.

Increase Shown

"Through the Marion County Livestock Co-operative Association," Leeper reported, "59 decks of livestock were handled, an increase of 11 decks over 1925. These shipments included 4,956 hogs, 1,155 sheep, 420 cattle, 157 calves, with a total market value of $102,909.01. Shipments were made on 268 persons."

Wool shipped through the farm bureau and its co-operative agency, the Ohio Wool Growers Co-operative Association, amounted to 40,582 pounds, Leeper said. The price received was substantial increase over local prices, he stated.

Leeper also touched on the insurance being handled by the farm bureau for farmers, and contracts for coal, oil and grease which have been made within the last year, on which farmer members are furnished these products through the bureau.

U. S. WELCOMES BRITISH SHIP AT NICARAGUA

No Protest To Be Made to Great Britain by Government

STRENGTHENS KELLOGG

Secretary Aided in Task of Convincing Senate of Situation's Seriousness

BULLETIN

Washington, Feb. 24—Great Britain was advised by the United States today that the American government is able and amply prepared to protect foreign lives and property in Nicaragua.

The notification took the form of a brief note handed Sir Esme Howard, the British ambassador, in exchange for a British communication notifying this government that H. M. S. Colombo was being dispatched to Nicaraguan waters.

• • •

Washington, Feb. 24—Great Britain's dispatch of a warship to the west coast of Nicaragua to protect British interests was viewed with equanimity today by the state department.

No protest against the British man-o-war's presence in Nicaraguan waters will be made by this government, so long as the vessel acts merely as "a place of refuge" for the 200 odd British subjects in the country.

Any attempt, however, to land British tars on Nicaraguan soil or to take any hostile action against the Nicaraguans for injuries suffered by British interests, will be met with a most emphatic American protest, under the well-understood doctrine of Monroe.

Similar to 1918 Policy

Great Britain fully understands this attitude on the part of the American government and is prepared to respect it, according to information here.

The American policy in this respect is the same as that followed at Vera Cruz in 1918, when the warships of half a dozen foreign powers gathered in Mexican waters but permitted the American marines to do the fighting.

Instead of viewing the presence of the British warship in Nicaraguan waters with alarm, state department officials apparently welcomed it today. It relieves this government of the necessity of providing a "place of refuge" for British subjects, should conditions become serious, and at the same time it strengthens the state department's contention that the Nicaraguan situation is really serious.

Secretary of State Kellogg has had a difficult task in convincing a considerable part of the senate that conditions in Nicaragua have justified the dispatch of nearly 5,000 marines and bluejackets to the Central American trouble zone. Consequently, the British action was regarded by state department officials as furnishing additional support for Kellogg's policy.

Opposes Resolution

Secretary Kellogg has registered strong opposition to the Borah resolution asking for an investigation of Nicaragua. This was enough to relieve the regular administration senators against the Borah and several other members of the committee, however, plan to go on their own. If the investigation is defeated by a threatened "regular" filibuster against the Borah resolution, it is believed.

Kellogg's opposition to the Borah investigation was said to have been expressed orally in a conference the two had last night.

In a letter to Borah today, however, the secretary of state indicated, but did not directly express, this opposition.

"I suppose I'll never be able to say good-bye to her," he repeated to reporters. Then to one he pleaded:

W. CENTER-ST IMPROVEMENT PETITION READY

Plan To Present Measure to City Council Next Monday Night

Petition for repaving W. Center st from Main st to the Hocking Valley railway is to be presented to City Council at its meeting next Monday night, according to present plans of [illegible]

[illegible] the last few weeks.

The paving committee, appointed for next year as the result of a mass meeting held by members of council and officers of the improvement association. At this conference over 60 petitioned to include the project in the city's 1928 improvement program provided no unforseen obstacles [illegible] college.

With 51% assurance of council's favorable attitude W. Center st property owners immediately began circulation of their petition in order to have it presented as soon as possible and open the way for adoption of legislation authorizing the paving.

Bears Signatures

The petition, it was stated today, will bear the signatures of persons owning a large percentage of property on W. Center st, which is expected to [illegible] prompt and favorable action [illegible]

By getting all preliminary legislation out of the way this year, it is expected that actual construction work will be started early in 1928.

Recently officers of the West Center Street Improvement Association appeared before the board of county commissioners for aid in financing the paving project. The commissioners have taken no action on the request but it is indicated that a decision may be made some time next week.

No Reduction

County aid would not result in any reduction of the West Center st property owners' share of the cost, the commissioners have been informed. The property owners will pay half of the total expense regardless of whether the county participates in the financing or not. This point has been stressed in discussions in order that the public may know that W. Center st interests are not seeking to profit personally by enlisting the county's assistance.

Should the county decide to help, it will profit solely in reducing the city's share of the paving bill. Advocates of the improvement declare that the county should be willing to grant aid at this time, when the city is facing financial difficulties.

In support of this claim, it is pointed out that the city contributes $100,000 annually to the county road tax and that up to this time, practically all of this money has been spent on rural roads. City taxpayers' road tax payments each year total $20,000 more than the amount received from owners of rural property, it is stated.

Capital Betting Against Extra Congress Session

Serious Turn for Worse in Mexican-American Relations Only Possibility

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Betting odds strongly against an extra session of the national legislature between the first of March, when the present congress ends by limitation, and the first of December, when the seventieth meets, as the constitutional requirement.

The one thing that might have forced President Coolidge to issue an extra call was a snarl rising up some of the legion ahead of time, in the very [illegible] government's cash supply bills, and this danger appears to have been removed.

Of course a great many pieces of legislation will go by the board at the last minute which numerous individual lawmakers will consider it imperative to have acted on long before next December. However, no very considerable number will concentrate on any one thing. Could a large group might get serious. A lot of little knots of two or three apiece, pulling in different directions, can't accomplish much.

ABOUT the only possibility of a special session, and the necessity for a presidential summons to senators and representatives to rush for Washington, is that again, as [illegible] may result [illegible] of legislation later on [illegible]

• • •

CONGRESS at any rate, is going to have the greatest [illegible] is going to have a rest.

[illegible] a few members are planning [illegible] trips.

The "junkets" as they call 'em, are being arranged. One congressional party expects to visit Panama, the other Hawaii.

An expedition of this sort is cheap and lots of fun. The government furnishes a transport. The congressmen take their families. They're royally entertained on board and royally received on shore. They get the sea air and see the sights and come back and make a report—a kind of travelogue.

It's known as a "tour of inspection."

BUT Washington won't be so dull this coming summer, even with congress at home or abroad or "junketing." No end of "politicking" will be going [illegible] The succeeding summer will be presidential summer and there will be no [illegible] too late for preparations. The fight will be raging south and [illegible]

It's during the summer [illegible] the quiet little preliminary [illegible] be held, in most [illegible] and senate offices which are supposed to be closed.

Washington looks quiet in summer and so its surface is but there certainly is plenty of activity in the city [illegible] underneath.

ASSIGNMENT OF WAGE PLAN IS SUCCESS, CLAIM

More Than 30 Workers Take Advantage of Arrangement of Judge Martin

The wage assignment plan inaugurated in Municipal Judge W. H. Martin to provide more equitable [illegible] of garnishee proceedings, is reported to be working successfully [illegible] records of the court show.

Since Jan. 3, when the Marion Mercantile Co. [illegible] garnishee [illegible] many others have taken advantage of the new plan and as its benefits become more apparent, the number of wage assignment proceedings is expected to increase rapidly.

Under this plan, a wage earner is enabled to arrange for settlement of his account [illegible] with all of his creditors by making a small payment [illegible] on each pay day. Suits of the creditors can be adjusted by the court so that the debtor and his family will experience no hardship as the result of the deduction from their earnings. This eliminates one of the most serious defects of garnishee proceedings.

Garnishee Rules

[illegible] garnishee [illegible] against [illegible] wages [illegible] the amount is frequently [illegible] that the money has [illegible] the debtor and his family [illegible] enough to pay their living expenses.

Last year records show, there were approximately [illegible] garnishee proceedings in the court of Martin and a large part of these resulted from wage earners and salaried men being unable to arrange for settlement of their debts on an easy payment plan. Local officials state. Under the wage assignment system, it is believed, this bankruptcy total will be greatly reduced, resulting in benefits not only for wage earners but for local business houses.

Judge Martin hopes that eventually garnishee proceedings will be largely eliminated here. In order to make the assignment plan as effective as possible, he has discussed it with local merchants and factory managers and solicited their co-operation in establishing it in place of the garnishee system. He has received assurances of this co-operation in practically every instance.

An additional clause in the local municipal court statute giving the judge the authority to appoint a trustee to handle the wage assignment service was proposed in connection with the amendatory proposal recently submitted to the state legislature. Through some oversight, this feature was omitted from the bill. Judge Martin is of the opinion, however, that inclusion of this clause in the statute is not absolutely necessary and he expects to continue operation of the assignment system in accordance with his original plans.

PINT OF LIQUOR CAUSES ARREST OF FIVE PERSONS

John Resta, 31, Fined $150 on Charges of Selling Intoxicants

A pint bottle of moonshine liquor was responsible for the arrest of five persons, three men and two women, and assessment of fines totalling $285 in Marion Municipal Court, yesterday.

The pint was sold by John Resta, 31, Senecaet pool room proprietor, according to court records, and although Resta received only $1 in the transaction, it brought him a $150 fine following his plea of guilty before Judge Martin.

James Eatman, 22, an Erie railroad employe into whose hands the liquor is said to have finally passed, was fined $100 and costs for illegal possession.

The pint was conveyed from Resta to Eatman, according to the story re-

[illegible] Stonebumer, [illegible] Farmdale and LaVern Baker, 22, of 205 W. Centerse. The [illegible] special suite to charges of [illegible] and Miss Stone. Sumner was fined $50 and costs and Miss Baker $25. The latter's fine was made [illegible] upon [illegible] of her [illegible] the fact that she had been [illegible] several weeks [illegible] to answer to a disorderly conduct [illegible].

Jess Sipes, 55, taken into custody in connection with the case, was released without penalty. Sipes was granted [illegible] because his testimony led to [illegible] of others in the party [illegible].

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.—Adv.

WORKMEN LAY FOUR MILES OF 130-POUND RAIL

Loading of Coal Gets Under Way at Toledo Hocking Valley Docks

More than four miles of the new 130-pound rail has been laged north of Marion on the main line of the Hocking Valley Railroad, replacing the 100-pound type.

Work of laying the rail began a short time ago and workmen, favored last week with splendid weather conditions, have made great progress on the job. When another mile is completed, Supervisor E. A. Sparks plans to put his men on the home end of the line near Delaware where more rail will be laged.

The laying of the new rail is the first construction work to take place in this county on the Hocking Valley Railroad. At the present rate of speed, the work will be completed within a few weeks.

Work Starts

Loading of coal on the boats at the Toledo Hocking Valley docks got under way yesterday. The ice on the Great Lakes has not yet cleared away but the Hocking Valley expects to be prepared for the rush when the ice finally breaks within the next few weeks.

The coal loading in Toledo will greatly serve to increase the amount of coal traffic through Marion over the Hocking Valley from the mines of Kentucky, West Virginia and Southern Ohio. During the next few weeks, local officials of that railroad look for a greater number of shipments than ever before.

Suspension of operation between the miners and operators in the Miami wage parley and rumor of a walk-out on the part of the miners is rumored to have caused many Ohio industrial concerns to put in a supply of coal in case of need. This action during the last few days has brought about an increase in coal traffic, it is reported.

Marketing Train

The meat production and marketing train, operated by Ohio State University and the New York Central Lines in the interest of those concerned with producing and marketing livestock, stopped in Mt. Gilead and Bucyrus today on its trip through Northwestern Ohio cities and villages.

The train arrived in Mt. Gilead at 8:20 and remained until noon, going from that village to Bucyrus. It was scheduled to leave Bucyrus tonight at 8 o'clock for Ashley and Delaware, the village and city which the train will next visit. The stop at Delaware is the last on the Northwestern tour, according to the present schedule. The meat production train will leave the [illegible] Ohio State University, Friday [illegible]

MARION COUNTY FARMERS ATTEND COLUMBUS MEET

Farm Bureau Represented at Livestock and Wool Growers' Gathering

Four members of the Marion County Farm Bureau were in Columbus this week attending meetings of co-operative organizations sponsored by the Ohio Farm Bureau.

I. F. Mantz, W. S. Wilson and Frank Osterle attended the sessions of the Ohio Wool Growers Co-operative Association and Lowell Fish was the delegate to the meetings of the Ohio Livestock Co-operative Association.

On Tuesday the two groups held a joint meeting and a banquet at night. Reports of the business done during the year and election of officers featured the two meetings.

Directors of the Livestock Association for the coming year will be F. G. Ash, Highland County, Irwin Portens, Hamilton County, E. C. Rector, Pickaway County, B. B. Brumley, Hancock County, A. T. Moser, Wyandot County, L. P. Usselman, Logan County and E. C. Darling, Coshocton County.

Officers and directors of the Wool Growers Association were reelected, L. B. Palmer, of Pataskala, is president.

Plans to make Ohio the center of the wool marketing activities of the entire corn belt were discussed and the opinions expressed favored the idea. Through a warehouse in Columbus, it is said, a large portion of the wool of the north central states is already being handled.

SCHERFF, MISSING LAD'S FAMILY IN CONFERENCE

Plans To Definitely Clear Up Virden Mystery Expected To Result

Definite plans for an investigation which, it is hoped, will soon clear up the mystery surrounding the disappearance of Carlton Virden, 18-year-old business college student who is supposed to have committed suicide by drowning himself in Crystal Lake on Dec. 2, were to be discussed this afternoon at a conference between Fred B. Scherff, manager of Crystal Lake Park, and relatives of the boy.

Included among those expected at the conference were M. A. Virden, of Mecker, uncle and guardian of the youth, and Mrs. Howard Virden, 631 Miami-st, his stepmother, with whom he resided prior to his disappearance. Mrs. Virden and the boy had moved from Mecker to their new Miami-st home the day preceding the date of the alleged suicide.

The relatives and Mr. Scherff have under consideration two theories, one that the boy actually killed himself and that his body is in the lake and the other that he ran away from home and is living, having covered up his trail with a suicide hoax.

Presuming that the suicide theory is correct, it is likely that steps will be taken to employ a diver to explore the lake in search of the body in case other methods fail. Thus far, all efforts to reach the body through dragging operations have proven futile. The supposition is that the body is caught under a ledge or some other projection on the sides or bottom of the lake.

Should it be ascertained, after a thorough search, that the youth's remains are not in the water, it is expected that authorities throughout the country will be asked to assist in a general hunt for him.

TOUR REVEALS BRIDGES ARE IN GOOD CONDITION

County Commissioners Continue Survey of Highways To Decide Improvements

After several days of touring the county, in a partial survey of the county roads and bridges, County Commissioners and County Surveyor Cecil Leavens have gained a good idea of what roads and bridges will need attention this year.

According to Commissioner Ward Kinnamon the bridges are in good shape, very few being in need of repair this year. Two years ago the county put on a bridge repair program and fixed up the bridges so that they will not need repairs this year.

Only a portion of the roads of the county have been covered yet by the group inspecting the roads. They were out again today and plan to continue the inspection until the entire stretch of county roads has been covered. From this inspection the county officials will make up the improvement program for the year.

STATE LEGION EXECUTIVE IS SPEAKER HERE

Department Commander Herbert R. Mooney Addresses Bird-McGinnis Post

State Department Commander Herbert R. Mooney of Woodsfield, and Department Adjutant J. J. Saslarsky of Columbus, gave interesting talks at a social meeting of members of Bird-McGinnis Post, No. 162, American Legion, held last night at Community Home, S. High-st, with approximately 80 members and guests in attendance.

Mr. Mooney discussed the membership and activities of the legion and Adjutant Saslarsky the legislative bills recently passed through the efforts of the legion. Francis Pero, chairman of the entertainment committee, gave an interesting chalk talk. Luncheon was served by members of the Ladies' Auxiliary after which the time was passed socially and with dancing.

To Attend Meet

About 20 members of the local legion are planning to attend a meeting of the Central Ohio District, of which Marion County is a member, Sunday at Memorial Hall, Columbus, it was announced. A legislative session in the morning, lunch at noon, served by members of the Auxiliary of Franklin Post, No. 1, will be followed by a business session in the afternoon. Mr. Mooney and all state officers will be in attendance. Arrangements were also made for a meeting of members of the executive committee and captains of the two teams selling insured savings plans, following dinner at the Rathskeller, Hotel Harding, Friday night. The next regular meeting will be held March 9 at the home.

complete coverage of the cost. This almost invariably results in a surplus after the work is completed and paid for. The law stipulates that surplus shall be transferred to the sinking fund for debt payments.

Assessments levied against property owners to pay for the improvements are abased upon the actual cost of the improvement and not upon the bond issue totals, City Auditor Landes stated today. The city engineer certifies tentative assessment rates when he makes his cost estimate, but should the contract price fall much below the estimate, the rate schedule is lowered accordingly.

Russell C. Snare, clerk of the sinking fund, stated today that the $24,500 received by him yesterday has been placed in the special assessment bond account to be used for paying debt and interest.

Deficit Cause

This means that the money goes directly to the place where City Treasurer Queen says the $40,000 shortage in this year's sinking fund revenue is located. The deficit, he states, has resulted from failure of property owners to pay their assessments when due and also from reductions in assessments obtained through action by council and in court proceedings.

There is now more than $40,000 in delinquent assessments on the tax books and county and city officials are arranging to start foreclosure suits to force collections.

WHAT once were black molten streams of lava reach out into the desert as they poured down from volcanoes, dead ages ago.

• • •

You walk over plains of salt, a hundred feet deep, carefully avoiding alkali pools. Life is scarce there, a few snakes in Summer, horned toads, the chuckwalla lizard, eaten by the Panamint Indians. Above puzzled vultures soar, wondering why the automobile doesn't die, as donkeys and mules used to die in that desert, giving the vultures something to eat.

BRIEF and sufficient are the lines here and there on wooden tombstones, cracked by the heat—a name and "he ran out of water."

The Angel Gabriel has watched many desperate struggles in that valley, when the temperatures went to 140, no water within reach, desperate immigrants, prospecting in the valley, struggling, panic-stricken to their death.

Tradition tells of Paute Indians, standing on the mountain side, watching one party of white men fall and die 200 yards from a water hole. One survivor, Bennett, "stumbling on to a spring, found a ledge of pure silver, broke off a piece, and when he reached civilization had it made into a rifle sight." Many have tried to locate that "gunsight ledge" of pure silver. You might find it.

Below Telescope Peak you may see the "Devil's Golf Course." You couldn't walk over its jagged floor; Satan himself could hardly do that. Not far away is a beautiful date palm ranch, 178 feet below sea level. Anything will grow if you give it enough water.

AND across the Amargosa Desert you travel to the "Ghost City of Rhyolite." Once it had a population of more than 10,000, railroad stations, stores, dance halls, jails and church. All still stand at the foot of Bullfrog Hill, church, jail, mills that ground up ore from the rich gold mine, all abandoned now. Musing on the ruins of an extinct gold rush you observe that there once was cheerfulness there, in spite of jail and church, when you see one half-full bottle entirely of beer and champagne bottles, emptied by optimistic pioneers, then used for building material.

THIS is an interesting country with the Angel Moroni guarding the great Salt Lake, magnificent mountain ranges, marvelously fertile fields, all the climates and all the products of the earth.

Chosen by Coolidge

Ezra J. Brainerd, Jr., of Muskogee, Okla., has been appointed to succeed Frederick I. Cox of New Jersey as a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Mr. Brainerd is the second man to be nominated for the position, Cyrus E. Woods of Pennsylvania, former ambassador to Spain and Japan having been turned down by the senate for confirmation after his name was sent to that body by President Coolidge. Brainerd is 49, having been born in 1878 in Vermont. He was educated at Middleboro college and Colgate university. He also studied law at the University of Michigan. For the last seven years he has been practicing law in Muskogee and is vice president of a bank in that city.

PREPARE FOR SHOWDOWN ON NAVAL BUILDING BILL

Advocates of Measure Seek to Take Advantage of Foreign Attitude

Washington, Feb. 24—With resentment sweeping congress over refusal of France and Italy to accept President Coolidge's bid to a naval limitation conference, the house today prepared for a show down upon the proposal to begin construction of three new $8,000,000 cruisers. The senate already has passed the bill.

"Big navy" advocates, frankly doubtful as to the result, were hopeful that the international situation would turn the tide in their favor.

Despite the apparent failure of the conference plan, however, Mr. Coolidge was reported to be unyielding on the cruiser amendment, the only major piece of legislation upon which he has sent written word to congress since his annual message.

The reopening of the fight found an odd alignment in the house with party lines knocked awry and the president's titular spokesmen opposing him. Speaker Longworth and Representative Tilson of Connecticut, Republican floor leader, were again ranged on the side of the "big navy" forces. In a previous fight, the cruiser proposal was lost in the house upon two votes, 177 to 174 and 183 to 161.

Representative Butler Republican, of Pennsylvania, chairman of the house naval affairs committee, declared that "If the rest of the nations of the world will not disarm, America must build."

MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY TAKES UP BOXING SPORT

May Become Regular Conference Game Within Few Years, Report

Ann Arbor, Mich. — Boxing, a comparatively new sport at the University of Michigan, and which was introduced here several years ago, has now become one of the most popular minor sports on the campus with a large class working daily under the guidance of Coach Ted Sullivan. Its popularity forecasts that it may some day become organized as a minor part in the western conference with teams competing regularly scheduled meets, just as wrestling, swimming and hockey.

Coach Sullivan now has a class of over 15 students including several promising men of high calibre. Renner, a welterweight, has shown pronounced ability in practices this year, and bids fair to hold down the berth in his weight when the Wolverine team engages in meets with various amateur organizations in the state. Three lightweights: Farrel, Woodward, and Hyne, look unusually good for so early in the season, while a number of aspirants in the other weights have given indication of coming to the front within a few weeks.

Several amateur meets with boxing clubs in various parts of the state have already been scheduled, according to Coach Sullivan, while number of others have been tentatively arranged.

The world's largest vessel, a liner 1,000 feet in length, is planned in England. The largest ship now afloat, the Majestic, is 915 feet in length.

MUSICAL PROGRAM GIVEN DURING CHAPEL PERIOD

Epworth M. E. Church Mixed Quartet Takes Part in Entertainment

A musical program was enjoyed by the pupils of Central Junior High School during the chapel period in the auditorium this morning. Students and the mixed quartet of Epworth M. E. Church took part in the program.

The first number was a musical reading, given in horse dance by Laura Mae Collins entitled, "Courting Lena Jane." Ula McNamara gave a reading "At the Matinee." Virginia Shipley and Helen Cross played a piano duet. Several vocal solos were given by Mrs. Florence Starr Rutherford, and the choral numbers were given by the mixed quartet of Epworth Church. Members of this group are Mrs. Rutherford, soprano; Mrs. Leila Conner Moore, contralto; Dual Spears, tenor and W. F. Conrad, bass.

FRED THOMSON, famous Western player who has risen from practical obscurity to stardom within two short years, has made a startling departure from ordinary "Western" practice in basing his latest production on the activities of the carpetbaggers in California, immediately following the acquisition of that state from Spain in 1848. The picture has an immense historical as well as entertainment value, and is the most pretentious film Thomson has yet made.

Thompson's newer picture will be seen at The Marion.

Daily Proverb—"All the grains of rice that are in the soup have been matured by the sweat of the laborer."

Let's be fair to congress. Possibly our legislators have never thought of passing a McNary-Haugen bill for the benefit of the ultimate consumer.

We note the announcement that horses will soon be extinct again, but for some reason it is impossible to note any indication that their usefulness is a thing of the past in the prices asked for them.

"Where did the director of 'Ben Hur,'" asks an exchange, "discover they had glass jars and steel bits for their steeds in those days?" Huh! He copied the picture on the cigar box labels.

The way Mr. Ford is championing condensed food tablets may be taken to indicate that there is absolutely no foundation for the intimation that he contemplates enlarging his flivver into a car.

New York refuses to give up her habitual criminal law, while Ohio scraps hers. It's all right for Ohio to encourage a population increase, but it seems to us some consideration should be given to quality.

The Minneapolis Journal says Michigan is seeking a law to reconstruct her roads to make them at least one and an eighth times as wide as the widest bus up there, but, reasonable as the thing looks, the story may be nothing more than an indication of state jealousy.

Commenting on the fact that Italy expects to realize 100,000,000 lire from the tax on her bachelors, an exchange wonders why she doesn't tax her maiden ladies as well. Being a gallant gentleman, Mussolini probably feels that they are punished sufficiently without that.

If all the teams follow the lead of the New York Giants and adopt tailless shirts, think of all the delay caused by stuffing them down into pants which will be obviated. It should result in cutting the playing time of games materially.

A scientist says the coming of an earthquake may be recognized by watching for the motion of a suspended plumb bob. But who wants to put in twenty-four hours a day watching a bob? That's the trouble with these scientists, they never stop to consider that the most of us have to work to keep the gaunt grey wolf from the door.

The Des Moines Register says: "They seem to be getting through this session of congress without calling on Vice President Dawes to cast a deciding vote." It's a fact. Charlie might just as well as not have taken many a little nap without subsequent embarrassment.

Sinclair Lewis told London newspaper men that he wished he was "just a plain, ordinary newspaper man again." Can it be that he's becoming modest? Just imagine Sinclair admitting that he ever was "just a plain, ordinary" anything. It's dollars to cents that interview was garbled.

The British are now adding a fifth meal—elevening—taking sandwiches and coffee at the hour indicated. We know that they are a hardy people, the fact that they have so well withstood their four meals a day demonstrating that, but if they can stand up under another meal at which their coffee is served, they must be simply gluttons for gastronomic punishment.

A Cleveland newspaper man says: "Perhaps, at a later date, things will have so shaped themselves as to make the case of Jacob C. Nesbitt once more the foremost topic of conversation throughout Ohio." What! Are we going to be forced to wade through all that stuff again?

We can't see the way to criticism of the government for its course in Nicaragua. No one is so foolish as to assume that it takes from a squad to a company of marines to guard the life of each American down there. The fact is that this country is bound to proceed as it does so long as it insists upon bearing the white man's burden commonly called the Monroe doctrine.

The New Cemetery Entrance.

The new main entrance to the Marion cemetery is a thing of beauty and in that regard an immense improvement over the old which at no time could have passed as a gem of artistry.

The new entrance, with its columns of red and grey stone and its graceful ironwork gates and approaches, is dignified and in keeping with the beauty of the wonderfully beautiful and well-kept grounds within. For years, the one blemish upon the appearance of this city of dead was its very clumsy and inartistic entrance. At last this defect has given away to an entrance pleasing to the eye. Any and all connected with the improvement—the architect, the committee passing upon the design, the workmen and the contributor of the stone for the columns—are entitled to commendation.

Great Architectural Problem Solved

Those of us who live sufficiently long to see the great Cathedral of St. John the Divine completed may witness something absolutely new in the way of architecture—an enormous Gothic tower four times the size of any tower of that style in existence which will be in perfect accord with the Gothic structure it surmounts—a distinctly American contribution to the development of Gothic architecure.

To those unacquainted with the situation it will be amazing to learn that the work on the greatest structure of the kind in this country and, we believe, the third largest in the world, should have proceeded so far and so many millions of dollars been expended before the plans of the structure had been completed. We know it was to us. But that is precisely the situation with regard to the great New York cathedral. The designs were completed up to the supports for the tower and there they ended, for nobody seemed to know how to support a Gothic tower of sufficient size to cover the immense area below it without overshadowing with the tower the entire edifice.

The tower feature has been easily the greatest of all problems confronting the architects because of the great width of the "crossing" over which it will rise. They have been working on it, year after year. They worked on it even before construction was started, and they have worked on it since up to a month or two ago.

The area of the "crossing"—the open space below the tower—is nearly 16,000 square feet, the distance across it exceeding by eighteen feet the diameter of the tower of St. Paul's in London. The only way such a huge space has been covered in the past is by a dome, which is untrue to Gothic architecure, or by a tower, either octagonal or polygonal in shape. It was found that a tower, even a polygon, would be so large as to dwarf the other lines of the building, and the plan was offered only tentatively.

In the meantime the building of the cathedral went on, the architects and other consultants doubtful if they would be able to find a solution of the problem. The architects seemed to have reached an impasse. But a few weeks ago a Boston architect hit upon the long-sought solution. His plan calls for a Gothic tower sixty feet square, the interior top of which will be 235 feet from the pavement of the "crossing" below, giving a majestic sweep through vault and arch by centering the tower over the area below.

The announcement of the solution of the problem describes the accepted plan thus: The four corners of the crossing at present are huge piers carrying the four main arches, massive pieces of masonry. Just inside each of these main piers are secondary and smaller piers running up to the main arches, which in line form the main arcades of the nave, choir and transepts. The plan to be followed is to throw across the main arches, starting from points just above the secondary piers, secondary arches which at their four points of intersection form bases for the support of a tower. In this way the tower is gradually built in, much as a child gradually narrows a square tower of blocks, until it converges into a normal tower of a diameter of sixty feet.

"This means," said Bishop Manning, of New York, who is in charge of the great structure, "that the central tower will have the normal Gothic scale and proportion, making a harmonious composition with the western towers, while both outside and in the central mass grows together stage by stage.

"The perspective drawings demonstrate clearly that the whole building is now thoroughly harmonious in scale, and the traditional central tower of the Gothic cathedral will be magnificently perpetuated in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine. The interior effect will be equally fine. The plan avoids both the choked effect of the narrow crossing of the Gothic cathedral caused by the enormous close-set piers that support the tower and also the 'un-Gothic' device of a classical dome.

"The intersection of the secondary arches which define the sixty-foot square, with the varying curves of masonry vaulting, the unusual distribution of light through the different stages of the central space, and the unequaled interior height, 235 feet from the pavement to the apex of the central tower vault, will result in an effect which is dramatic and beautiful in the highest degree, while it carries out, as has been said, into new fields the logical and structural possibilities inherent in the Gothic style."

But to think of expending scores of millions upon what is to be one of the greatest church edifices extant, a structure which will take half a century, if not a century, in the building, without knowing before construction is undertaken what it is to be like; without knowing the answer to the greatest problem the construction of the edifice is to present!

We could imagine a builder starting a small bungalow that way, or a small garage, but hardly what is planned to be one of the largest and finest cathedrals on earth.

Lita Chaplin doesn't appear to be much interested in Charlie, but her enthusiasm over a possible $16,000,000 is simply amazing.

Last year's apple crop is said to have been 234,000,000 bushels. Now if you will figure the seventy-five cents or dollar a bushel the grower got for them and the aggregate of the nickel each the consumer paid for them, a line may be had on what was reaped by the people between.

Vagrant Verse.

IN FEBRUARY.

He must have faun's ears who can hear
Spring's rustling dress—
Above the melting, mud-streaked snows,
Leaf lessiness.

He must have pixy's nostrils who
Can smell the spring,
Arbutus-scented, when gray cold
Grips everything.

He must have wood-sprite's eyes
Who, on bare trees,
Can see spring's blossoms curve and smile
At some young breeze.

He must have mermaid's fingers now
To feel spring's touch,
He must have faith who does these things
And love life much!

Care of Babies a Joyful Task.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Babies are the most wonderful gifts of kind Providence. They are better than great riches and every other blessing in the world.

But babies bring great responsibilities and demand many sacrifices. The mother of a bouncing youngster has little time for social or other activities. Her great big job is to look after that animated and insistent morsel of human sweetness. That is enough to do and well worth every sacrifice it causes.

Every cry and almost every gurgle from a baby's throat have their meanings. It is amazing what a degree of understanding is soon established between mother and infant.

Until the new mother learns the language of babydom she imagines that when the infant cries it wants food. If food is given on the theory that it is needed, as well as to stop the wail of the baby, it will result in overfeeding. Overfeeding causes indigestion, vomiting, diarrhea and illness.

It is even worse to overfeed a baby than it is to overfeed a grown persons. During the first year of life five or six feedings in the twenty-four hours are quite enough. For the first month or so there may be a few more, but after the second month, certainly, the feedings should not exceed five.

Do not forget the need of water. Just because the food of an infant is liquid is no reason for overlooking the thirst for plain water and the necessity of it.

Many a baby suffers from thirst. Many a crying baby will coo from sheer comfort and joy after being given water to drink.

To prepare the bottle feedings after weaning is accomplished and while it is in process, is a real task.

Unless the feedings are accurately and correctly made there is sure to be trouble. It is much more important to give the greatest care at this period than it is while the baby is fed from the breast exclusively.

Cow's milk, you know, is much different from mother's milk, and unless it is carefully "modified" or mixed, there will be an upset stomach and real illness. Your doctor or the nurse at the baby health station will give you all the particulars of this painstaking job.

The daily bath and all the dressing and undressing a baby must have take hours of time. One way and another the time of a mother is fully occupied. It is an exacting experience, but the cooing, growing, active youngster of clear skin and bright eyes is worth every bit it costs.

A—Yes, if taken in large doses.

C. H. Q—What should be avoided when one is subject to appendicities and what treatment other than operation is advisable? The patient is a boy of fourteen.

A—Constipation is a great factor when looking for the cause of this trouble. Careful diet, plenty of water between meals and regular elimination should help. For further particulars send a self-addressed stamped envelope and repeat your question. An operation is usually advisable if the condition is chronic. Your physician should advise you.

Wilbur Glenn Voliva, overseer of the religious cult made famous by Dowie at Zion City, Illinois, says he has sold more than $5,000,000 worth of real estate in Zion City to members of his church. Sixteen years ago he bought the whole acreage for $500,000. There is money to aim at anything, including the remission of a religious sin, if you hide your time and use your brains.

Before long there will be a meeting in Omaha of the national council of the Congregational church and a general convention of the Universalist court in Hartford, Connecticut. There is talk of union of these two great religious bodies. In Canada we have seen religious organizations come together to form the United Church. The tendency in the United States is toward consolidation.

We shall not live to see anything like complete combination. It is not important. It might result in decreased interest in religious affairs, in more apathy. There is apathy enough now in church circles.

There is nothing very wrong with denominationalism, but there is everything wrong with intolerance. What this country needs is a recognition of common aims and common purposes. Belong to whatever congregation you choose. The idea is to be on the move—up and on.

Today's Worst Story.

"That's bad. I don't like to see boys get the habit of losing money. How did it happen?"

"It went through a little teeny-weeny hole in my pocket."

"That's just what I thought, Pa. And I was figuring. Peanies and dimes wouldn't be any better, would they?"

"Why no, of course not. They'd slip through too."

Some Questions of Interest Asked and Answered.

Q. Why is some tea green and some black? D. P. M.

A. The same kind of tea leaves can be used for the manufacture of either green or black tea, the difference of the two teas lying merely in the process of curing. Yet some varieties of tea leaves are better adapted than others for making certain kinds of tea. In producing green tea the leaves are sterilized by steam. This prevents oxidizing or fermentation of the leaf which retains its green color and when boiling water is poured over it the result is green or greenish-yellow liquid. In manufacturing black tea the leaf is allowed to ferment which changes its color from green to very dark brown. In the case of oolong, or semi-fermented tea, the fermentation is allowed to reach a certain desired point.

Q. Why isn't it necessary to allow for the kick of a gun, in sighting at a target? J. C.

A. A shotgun begins to kick the moment the bullet begins to leave its resting-place in the gun. The reason that a person does not have to sight his target below, is because this factor is allowed in the manufacture of the gun. The gun is so made that the bullet may be aimed directly at the target.

* * *

Q. How are ice mines accounted for? F. P. H.

A. The "ice caves" appears to be a shallow shaft sunk into the rocks, in which they are fairly open air passages. Apparently during the winter the air is drawn into this opening and into the rocks, cooling the rocks to a low temperature; during the summer the air current is reversed and goes out of the rocks into the shaft, becoming cooled in its passage through the crevices, they had been cooled the preceding winter, so that in coming into the shaft, they are cold enough to freeze water dripping into it. The geologist can not say to what extent these winds may be drying winds during the summer and the phenomena due to cooling effect of the evaporation. This may, however, play a considerable part in the formation of the ice.

Q. How many children did John Brown have? Did any of his sons aid him at Harper's Ferry? R. H. C.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. McINTYRE.

New York, Feb. 24—Manhattan is often regarded as a city of "show-offs." Every man upon whom fortune bestows a sudden gift is popularly supposed to acquire the brand with a high hat. And the ladies gaze at the world through a lorgnette.

The "show-offs" are plentiful. They are to be seen in profusion in cafes, hotel and club lobbies and supper clubs. Their chief interest in life appears to be to attract attention by the manner of dress, accent or a sheath of golden notes.

Yet, in comparison, they are no more boastful than the cracker barrel comedians of the Main street general stores. And they represent the same idea. New York, like Main street, regards them as clowns and nothing more.

There is no place where men are more humble in success as on this mad island. That is to say the men, and women, too, of account. They are keenly conscious of the fact that circumstance often plays a most important part in the achievement.

New York has a way of reaching out and from the obscure and catapulting them into fame and amazing wealth. From a cubicle way up flat in the upper reaches of the Bronx they find they have attained the affluence of a duplex apartment on Park avenue.

And from the sardine canned space of the subway to an expansive imported car. Yet they do not flaunt their success. To all appearances they remain just as they were. Indeed, most of them are more inclined to laugh than grow haughty.

In observations of the worthwhile I have yet to see a single one spoiled by quick success. In fact their sympathy for those struggling up seems to broaden. They express a wholesome humility which one is inclined to believe they feel.

* * *

The explanation for this humility in success may be that New York is so overwhelmingly big that no matter the success, just around the corner is some one whose success has a deadening effect.

* * *

And not all those successful are deserving. Several years ago a comparative stranger went to a friend for a small loan, which was granted. His cheap hotel-room had been plugged and he was actually hungry. A short while ago he hailed him from his magnificent car, took him around to see his gorgeously-furnished apartment, but the trifling loan had slipped his memory.

* * *

There is also an idea that many of the suddenly prosperous begin to cut into the gravy along Broadway immediately. In one church near Madison square are five members, once poor and made suddenly wealthy, who give ten per cent. of their income to the church as have since the first year of their prosperity. To them Broadway is only a name.

* * *

It is the "show-off" who never adds up the cafe check, shouts to head waiters so all may hear he will be in a stage box in case he is wanted, calls actors unknown to him by their name, has himself paged in clubs and hotel lobbies and talks big for strange ears. The worthwhile successful man does none of these things. He is entirely too busy with his own affairs.

* * *

It is follow, however, to say that the bluff doesn't receive a good break here. He does more perhaps than in any other spot in the world. He marries the heiresses, receives dinner invitations to aristocratic homes and finds credit so easy he can live in grand style definitely with no assets but a "front."—Copyright, 1927.

Mrs. E. Amelia, wife of Fred W. Armstrong, died at her home on the Boulevard, after an illness of ten days. She was thirty-five years of age and had been married but two months when she succumbed to pleuro-pneumonia.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hemmendinger, residing south of the city.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Grant Dodds, of Pearl street.

Mrs. Dora Arndt and Mr. John E. Seyfert were married by Rev. C. E. Lowney.

Miss Josie Retterer and Mr. John O. Miller were married by Rev. E. F. W. Stillhorn, of the Lutheran church.

The Green Camp Township Sunday-School association held its annual convention at the Methodist church in Green Camp. Three orrion speakers, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hill and J. B. Virden, contributed to the program.

Dinner Stories.

A schoolmaster, named Bird, was always being reminded of this fact by the boys. So on entering the class-room he found the boys looking so grave that he looked around for signs of trouble. Sure enough on the blackboard appeared a familiar quotation:

"Hail to thee, blithe spirit,
Bird thou never wert."

"Who wrote that?" he rapped out sharply. Dead silence reigned for some minutes. Then a small boy said: "Please, sir, I think it was Shel-ley!"

I was suffering from liver trouble and the doctor told me that if I laughed fifteen minutes before each meal, my condition would improve. One day in a restaurant, while having a little laugh, a man at the opposite table leaned over to me and said in an angry manner:

"What the devil are you laughing at?"

"Why, I am laughing for my liver."

"Well, then, I guess I had better start laughing too. I ordered mine half an hour ago."

An inspector of schools in South Africa invited some boys to join him in a swim in a lagoon. The boys watched him undress and go in, but themselves remained on the bank.

After a long and enjoyable swim the inspector chaffed the boys for not coming in, and said: "I suppose you are afraid to bathe with an inspector?"

"No, sir," said one of the boys, "there is a crocodile in this lagoon yesterday."

Children Cry For Fletcher's
CASTORIA

When Baby Complains.

There are many ways a baby has of expressing any pain or irregularity or digression from its normal condition of health and happiness. A short sharp cry, a prolonged irritated cry. Restlessness, a constant turning of the head or of the whole body, fretful. In these and other ways a baby tells you there is something wrong. Most mothers know that a disordered stomach, or bowels that do not act naturally are the cause of most of baby's sufferings. A call for the doctor is the first thought, but in the event of any delay there should be ready at hand a safe remedy such as Fletcher's Castoria.

Castoria has been used for baby's ailments for over 30 years and has merited the good will of the family physician in a measure not equaled by any other baby's medicine because of its harmlessness and the good results achieved.

And remember this: Castoria is essentially a baby's remedy and not a cure-all for every member of the family. What might help you is too often dangerous when given to a babe.

WOMEN PULL BADGES OFF OFFICERS, FINED

Cincinnati, Feb. 24—Mrs. Mary Strasser, 25, Chattanooga Tenn., and pretty Miss Bonnie Burnett, 21, Cincinnati, today were sentenced that should the anti-cocktail wolf get them and that pulling badges from policemen's clothing "is not quite the thing to do."

Mrs. Strasser was under a $50 fine and Miss Burnett under a $25 fine today for disorderly conduct after they admitted to Traffic Judge Fetch that they "had a few cocktails" just before taking an automobile ride that resulted in a traffic accident.

They also were fined for having broken the arresting officer's badge from his coat. Miss Burnett was to face an additional charge of reckless driving today.

Newport, Ky., Feb. 24—It's perfectly all right for a young fellow to "take a couple of stiff charges" of something stronger than water when he's about to be married, ruled Judge Bertelsman in police court here today when William Ralling, of Norwood, O., fined him on a charge of intoxication.

Ralling, it was alleged, tried to obtain a marriage license on Washington's birthday, and said nasty things when he couldn't get the courthouse door open. MEDICAL science tells us: "To avoid a BIG cold, stop a little one." And here's the ideal treatment: Take a rest, a laxative, a light diet, and rub Vicks on throat and chest. Vicks acts on colds two ways at once: (1) Its medicated vapors, released by the body heat, are breathed direct to the inflamed air passages; (2) it stimulates the skin like a poultice.

Use this treatment at the first sign of every little cold and big colds will be almost unknown to you

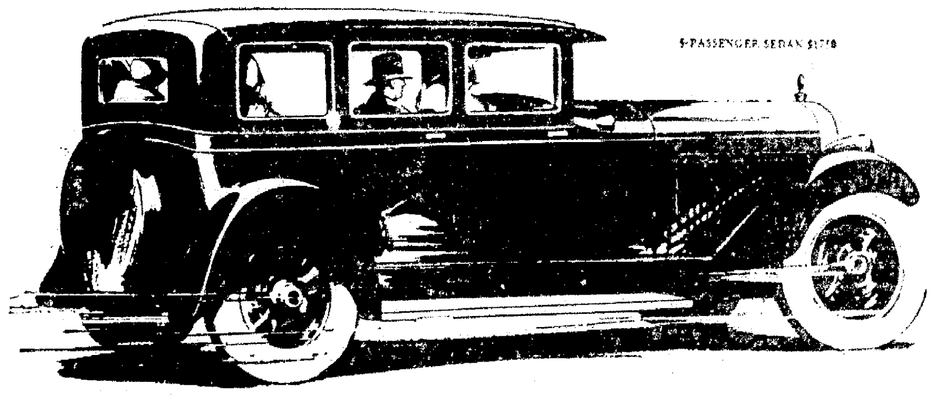
The Super-Six Principle freed to the Limit —



and Beauty to Match Its Matchless Performance

The body styles created for the New Hudson Super-Six have shared equally with its brilliant new performance in its enormously successful reception everywhere shown. At the New York Show and all subsequent Automobile Shows the Hudson-Essex exhibit has outdrawn any other by two and three to one. It is the high point of the year in interest, discussion and sales activity.

The new Hudson bodies are of such variety and beauty as will satisfy all demands for luxury and exclusiveness as well as comfort and price advantage.

The Super-Six principle, now freed to the limit, delivers its power with the smooth flow of an electric motor. Throughout, the car is engineered to make full use of its stream of energy. And so the Super-Six gets under way faster and with a total absence of the violent lunge usual to high-powered cars.

It glides into motion from a standing start. Even at high you always have untapped reserves of power for quick acceleration. Four-wheel brakes just as softly and effectively check your speeds.

In motor and chassis, both new, the Hudson Super-Six reaches new heights of speed, safety, comfort and performance.

In the Essex Super-Six—sharing all these advantages in comfort, safety, quality, and surpassing motor efficiency—there are five new bodies—entirely new in appearance, beauty, smart upholstery and appointment.

WAR

MUST BE DECLARED "AGAINST MAN'S INVISIBLE FOES"

If we would avoid a return of the terrible onslaught of "INFLUENZA" which took thousands of human lives a few years ago.

Certain germs cause what are termed "Infections" diseases more or less readily communicable from one to the other. Persons who are in a run-down condition are open to infection and must protect themselves against the attacks of these "COLD, LaGRIPPE and FLU" germs.

An innocent little COLD today may be a bad case of PNEUMONIA tomorrow.

The best and most effective way to wage WAR against these disease-inducing germs is to guard the entrance gates through which they pass into the body the Mouth and Throat; and by keeping the body in good condition so as to offer a strong resistance to disease.

"SULFOX"

IN "SULFOX" WE Have a Safe and Sure DISINFECTING, GERM DESTROYING AGENT. No method is at the same time so effective and so easy. It stops the irritation and inflammation, goes direct to the cause fights, conquers and destroys the death-dealing germs.

If you do not feel perfectly normal DO NOT DELAY. Prompt treatment may save you weeks of needless suffering.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found how to save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for results. It gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good. Keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, known the world over for its healing effect on membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

The Farmer

[illegible] one of those fellows who often needs money. So do all of us. But unlike many others he is better able to pay at certain times than others, because his income is not forthcoming each week or month as other workers.

Realizing this, Marion Chattel Loan Company, 376 S. State-st, long ago arranged chattel loans particularly suited to the needs of the farmer. He may borrow money now and arrange for payment several months in the future, during which time he need pay nothing whatever. A nominal interest charge is made only for the time the money is used.

A great many farmers have been quick to recognize the convenience of such a method, and every man who operates a farm owes it to himself to [illegible] such a service can become.—Adv.

SYNOPSIS

Quexter, narrator of the tale, is an American employed in a bank in Paris. He starts for Geneva to the headquarters of the League of Nations, stopping at Dijon between trains. He shares a room with another American who says he is a schoolmaster traveling abroad. During the night the "schoolmaster" disappears.

Quexter arrives at Geneva and finds the League discussing the illegal drug traffic. He sees a smartly dressed Italian whom he has noticed at Dijon and overhears a conversation, in which a mysterious "Center" is mentioned. Quexter picks up a handkerchief thrown by a dancing girl and finds a handkerchief among his effects. He uses it to blind up a cut finger and later sends it to the laundry.

Next day the stout Italian—Cassare Marce—calls on him that afternoon he is kidnaped. He is a prisoner in a house outside the city and questioned by a man, the "Center" referred to. He escapes, finds the man who shared a room in Dijon a prisoner, then goes to Geneva and appeal to the police for protection. The "schoolmaster" turns out to be a detective interested in unraveling the secrets of the illicit drug traffic for the American government, Claypole by name.

Claypole asks Quexter to go to the laundry and get the handkerchief. He does so and mails it to Claypole. He is captured by the Center's hirelings and taken to a sanitarium in the Swiss mountains where he is threatened with torture unless he tells what he has done with the handkerchief. Chief among his captors is a girl, Patience Smith, whom he has seen with Marce. He is saved by Marce's men, who pose as the landkeeper from the supposed body of Claypole, found from the river. Claypole leaves a note for Quexter, saying that he must face the fact that the handkerchief has been sent to the laundry and that he must escape at once.

Quexter is held prisoner in the sanitarium which is filled with patients who are being treated for drug addiction. Patience promises to help him escape. He sees a man being put to work in the quarry who, when that see a man herding goats. When he returns to his room he discovers a secret panel and tries to escape by way of it, but finds himself in a room filled with documents pertaining to the illicit drug traffic. The "Center" sends him word. He tells him that he (Quexter) will be made a drug addict by the forcible administration of a drug which will gradually bring about his death. The drug is forcibly given him but while under the influence he conceives a way of escape. He assaults Dr. Konta in charge of the institution, reaches the bathroom, blows up the water heater and flees from the house. He reaches a chalet and gets into the attic. In the room below the "Center" and his associates—who form the "inner circle" of the drug traffic—meet to discuss the offer of a sale of drugs from a man named Finckelstein. In the midst of the meeting Quexter slips off a rafter and crashes through the ceiling on to the table in the room below. He is bound, gagged and a tablecloth thrown over him. Then Mr. Finckelstein arrives.

CHAPTER FORTY EIGHT

"Good evening, Mr. Finckelstein," I heard the Center say. "Will honorable visitor be pleased, perhaps, to sit down?"

"You will me excuse," said a heavy gruff voice. "I do not the English language good speak. My language is German, Schweizer-Deutsch, for I am of Zurich."

"Honorable visitor speak with great understanding," replied the Center. "We listen listen to all he say. Perhaps he please continue."

"Who are these persons?" inquired Finckelstein.

The Center spoke rapidly. They were his colleagues of whom he had made mention on former occasions. He had submitted M. Finckelstein's proposal to them, and now was waited to hear his views before reaching a decision.

"I have nothinks to say," replied Finckelstein after a short pause. "You have my offer received. You must it reject or accept."

"Can you give us details, yes?" asked the Center.

To this Finckelstein replied in his uncouth tongue that he had acquired the stock—how need not concern the Ring—that it was officially supposed to have been destroyed, and that he himself had been present when the packing cases containing it had been burnt on the Government premises at Berne.

"But the stock it was not burnt. It with with me; we did in cases rubbish burn."

A slight murmur, suggestive of admiration, went around the table as he spoke.

"Now," he continued, "I know where the stock is, and I advise."

His voice broke off suddenly and jumped up a full tone.

"Mein Gott! Was ist dass?"

Evidently he had caught sight of my form lying huddled up beneath the tablecloth in the corner.

The situation was bewildering explained to him by the Center and various members of the Ring. The Center, in concluding his explanations, added a detail of which I was not aware.

"I have sent manservant who conducted you here for colleague," he said. "He soon return and remove unfortunate obstruction," and he never escape again. We take no more chances. He very shortly be dead man that tell no tales."

The invisible Finckelstein was apparently amused by the story of my sudden arrival, for he burst into a roar of hearty laughter.

"That is good joke," he chuckled. "Gentlemen all round the table seated when from heaven a message there came and they were mightily afraid."

He continued in this vein for some time, his voice dying away in rumbling chuckles as he concluded.

"That is all right Mr. Center. I am with the credentials of your friend of the tablecloth satisfied."

He then resumed his tale. The drugs, he explained, were in a place known only to him. He would reveal the whereabouts of the hiding place to three persons, of whom the Center must be one, on receipt of a check for half the stipulated amount, the other half to be paid the moment the goods had been safely delivered. He ended, and there was a short silence.

"Well, gentlemen, do we accept?" I heard the Center say.

"Thith ith moth irregular," the Jew objected. "Why muth we pay good money before we thee the goodth? Mr. Finckelstein ought to tell uth where the goodth are to be found and they ought to be anthpected."

The Center addressed himself to Mr. Finckelstein.

"What Mr. Finckelstein say to that?" he asked.

"I agree that these proceedings most irregular are. But all things are in this affair irregular. I accept the proposal of drugs disclose report," as I already said to Mr. Center and to other persons, on payment of check for half money."

"Well, gentlemen do we accept from others," the Center again enquired.

"I do not perhaps," said the Jew. "I am entirely opposed to thith method of bathneth."

"I suggest that we discuss this offer among ourselves" proposed the man from London. "I feel that there is a good deal in the objection raised by our colleague."

"Mr. Finckelstein" as I the Center "You say here business mean with hard head, as is English expression. Why you make so strange proposition? Quite against habit of business man to buy pig in poke."

The good sense of Mr. Finckelstein prevailed.

"I have with business now to deal but I must point out that these dealings quite outside laws and regulations stand. I cannot such risks to take afford."

"Come, Mr. Finckelstein," said the man from London. "Here among thieves, you know. The fact that we deal outside the law makes us all the more scrupulous in keeping our contracts. If we failed to do so, the whole organization would be discredited and break down. Show us the goods and we will pay you on the nail. That's only fair and sensible."

"You might truthi nith, Mr. Finckelstein," said the Jew.

"You are in me no trust reposing," objected Finckelstein. "I tell you the goods in safety and good condition stand, but you yourselves permit me word to doubt."

Quicksands of Love

BY ADELE GARRISON

Mary Salvedes

A Mary closed the door of her room and locked it behind her. She was determined that the others would not intrude on her two-fold purpose. The first strengthened her resolve to write the letter that would put a stop to Jack's attentions, and the second was to get a true picture of herself as she looked on her return to the battle upon the side of which she had ranged her will-power and pride against the other's overpowering love of her.

Almost I felt impelled to give back the key when I had a realization of the absurdity of such an act from a girl. Then Mary's voice, a boy's voice, but with a note of decision in it, made me ashamed of my momentary weakness.

"Jack's something else for girls to put the shine under," she was saying up at me over her glass. "That's this and that's none of reading my face to sleep. It doesn't do me a bit of good and it only makes you an extra trip up here to be sure that my light is put out."

"You know I don't mind that, Mary," I protested hastily.

"I know you don't," she assured me with an affectionate smile "but I do. So, unless you're more than I'm going to refuse you bed nights so." She tilted her glass meaningly. "Kiss me good-night, Jack," she leaned toward me with an imperious embrace, "and turn off my light, too." She snapped out the light at her bedside, leaving the room with only the faint illumination of the stairway leading to my room below. "There!" she said fumbling underneath the blanket, "I could just open my window, I'm sure I shall be asleep in five minutes."

I ought to have been highly gratified by all this. At one blow Mary had conquered a serious obsession and a petty weakness. She also had relieved me of the necessity of a second trip to her room each night, a task trifling in itself but sometimes onerous as such duties will become.

But as I made my way back to my own room after closing her window as she had asked, I felt vaguely dissatisfied. The victory had been too easy altogether. Queer unrelated impressions floated through my mind all seeming to be linked together in a shadowy passage to my brain which I had not the key to read. Out of them however, crystallized one determination. I would give no opportunity to Jack Leslie or Mrs. Baker to see the girl or send any message to her.

As the days went on, however, with not the slightest indication that Mary was departing in any way from her usual routine of work and study and house at home, I felt my misgivings vanishing, although I relaxed no whit of my espionage.

But though my worry over Mary waned, my uneasy interest in Mrs. Baker's actions increased. The impression I had had of something familiar in her personality had been augmented by our various interview with her when I had forbidden her any further communication with Mary. Common sense told me that I never had seen the woman before, but something stronger, of more fantastic urged the theory that something familiar and menacing was hidden under the queer exterior which I agreed with Lillian might very well be a disguise.

By obsessing did my theory become that I realized I could not be fully assured of Mary's safety until I had solved the problem of the woman's real identity, for I was sure that the name Baker was a pseudonym. Yet, how was I, whose almost every waking moment was occupied with Philip Verrizen's work, to find time for such an undertaking?

I am sure I did not consciously resort to prayer upon the subject, but I surely felt as if I were receiving a direct and surprising answer to prayer when almost a week after my interview with Mrs. Baker, Katie came to me with the announcement:

"Miss Mary says I'm to tell you she's not coming up to say good-night, as she's going to bed early. She's got a headache."

GOOD WILL IS MAGIC INGREDIENT OF BUSINESS

Balance Sheets of Nine Firms Examined in Ford Tax Suit

Washington, Feb. 23—The magic ingredients of American industrial supremacy are neither buildings, machinery, brains, nor is any material predilection for business. It is rather, the American capacity for "good will," given and received.

Balance sheets of nine of the nation's foremost business enterprises examined today in the government's tax suit reveal good will as a factor like a billion-dollar value in the American people—if you can measure it in money.

The aggregate market value of the outstanding securities of the nine corporations as computed by Prof. Ralph E. Badger, an expert in financial appraisals, was $2,541,000,000. Behind this tremendous investment stood "tangibles"—real estate, plants and equipment—valued at only $1,288,000,000. The rest was the going value of good will.

In many cases, both in the list and beyond, Badger added, good will is the only value behind the shareholder's common stock certificate.

Here is some of the "good-will values carried, as shown in Badger's compilations:

B. F. Goodrich Rubber Co., $55,000,000; F. W. Woolworth, $50,000,000; Liggett Myers Tobacco, $36,000,000; Sears-Roebuck, $30,000,000; P. Lorillard Tobacco, $19,000,000; Cluett Peabody, $18,000,000; May Department Stores, $15,000,000.

And, more to the point, the record shows that net earnings on these valuations for the period covered by the study were at the average rate of 10.45 per cent a year.

Steam Shovel Warriors Slaughter Dairymen, 54-30

Harry Schwab Shines in His Last Performance on Marion Court This Season

Shovel Center Makes 25 Points; Dairies Are Completely Outclassed; Personal Fouls Fatal to Miller and Minard in Last Half

BY EDDIE SCHOENLEB
Sports Editor, The Star

COMPLETELY outclassing and outplaying their opponents, the Marion Steam Shovel basketeers last night slaughtered the Isaly Dairy quintet, 54 to 30, in the second tilt of the five-game series between the two teams. It was the second win for the Shovels in the series.

Harry Schwab, Shovel center, lacked but five points of making as many counters, were recorded by the entire Isaly team. He caged seven field goals and 11 free throws, making the 11 charity markers out of a possible 12 chances from the foul line. Schwab, making his final appearance in a Shovel suit this season, gave fans the farewell thrill of the year. It was his splendid work that aided the Shovels considerably in their massacre act.

Applegett of the Dairy made the first point of the game when he dropped in a free throw in the initial moment. The Dairies made two more free throws and two field goals during the remainder of the half while the Shovels helped themselves to enough of both to bring the count up to 30 before the gun cracked.

Dairies Helpless

Three minutes after the game got under way, the Dairies were almost helpless, both on offense and defense. Their opponents scored at will and had plenty of luck in piling up the points. On the other hand, the battle had been in session nine minutes before Griffin, Isaly left forward, connected with a long wild field goal from near the center of the floor for the first Dairy basket.

Griffin, captain of the Ohio College team of Columbus, and former Ludlow man, started the game in Tschanen's position but was removed from the fray for a few minutes late in the half when he appeared unable to get going. He was again in most of the second half. Penry started at the other forward, Minard played center, Applegett and Miller were at guards. Fran Robbins replaced Applegett at guard late in the half. "Ap" went back into the game in the second stanza.

The Shovel team was composed of Roll and Bohyer, forwards, Schwab, center, and Bacon and Compton, guards in the first half. Wilson, scheduled to referee an Ohio Conference game, was unable to be present. It was this team that scored the first 30 points for the Shovels. Sacksteder relieved Compton at guard at the beginning of the second half and in the last few minutes, Bacon used everybody he had warming the bench, including Lynch of the Kinnears, Conley, Nancy Irwin, Ward, and Andrews.

Not So Good

With the count standing 30 to 7 at halftime, the leaders did not show the same form in the first part of the second half that they had displayed in the initial portion of the contest. The ball went wild on many occasions and the players seemed unable to find each other. The Dairies had scored two field goals before their legs finally settled down and made one.

From that point on, the second half was similar to the performance witnessed in the first 20 minutes. With 17 minutes to go, Minard was removed from the game on personal fouls. Griffin went to center and Tschanen took his old post at forward when the Isaly center was forced out of the fracas. Miller, Dairy back guard, played much of the first half with three personals threatening him and was finally removed from the fray in the last six minutes.

Free throws were plentiful for the Shovels and they made 20 out of 24 chances from the foul line. Schwab collected more than half of them. The Isaly crew counted eight points on free throws.

All Score Points

Every member of the Isaly team, with the exception of Miller, took a hand in the scoring end of the game. Applegett hit his stride in the last 10 minutes and made three field goals. He was high man for his quintet, caging nine of the 30 points. Minard and Griffin each made five and Penry was credited with seven.

It was a walkaway for the Shovelers from start to finish. Not once after the first few minutes did the Dairies have the slightest chance of staging a comeback. The defense of their opponents was impenetrable and their offense baffling.

Roll Plays Great Game

Roll collected 10 points for the Shovels and played a great floor game in addition. Bohyer made seven. Sacksteder counted four, Bacon was credited with four, and Compton made three. Schwab made the rest with the exception of a free throw by Ward.

Ray Finsterwald of Athens, refereed the contest. His work, so satisfactory in the first game of the series, met with criticism from various angles of the hall last night. On several occasions he was given the well-known "razzberries."

The next Shovel-Isaly clash will take place March 3 in the Star auditorium. Should the Shovels win, it will end the series.

ST. MARY'S INDIANS WIN OVERTIME GAME

Defeat Green Camp Freshmen on Latter's Floor, 18 to 14

The St. Mary's Indians last night moved out Green Camp freshmen in an overtime battle at Green Camp. The final score was 18 to 14, the count being deadlocked at the 14-point mark at the end of the regular time.

Hogan was the outstanding Indian man. He scored six field goals for 12 of the 18 points. Long was Green Camp's best bet. He made two field goals.

It was a hot battle from start to finish and furnished the large crowd with all the excitement they wished. The Indians have made an excellent record so far this season and the win last night puts them a notch higher in the youthful basketball world of this vicinity.

If you argue with a crank, you'll find he has your temper.

TAYLOR FAVORITE

Will Meet Shea Tonight In Coliseum; Ten Rounds Bout

Chicago, Feb. 24.—Bud Taylor of Terre Haute, who is or is not bantamweight champion of the world, according to your geographic view, ruled a strong favorite to defeat Eddie Shea of Chicago, several hours before gong time today.

Taylor and Shea mix in the feature event of Jim Mallen's fight show at the Coliseum tonight. They are scheduled for ten rounds to a decision. Each must make 123 pounds at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

This match has stirred more interest locally than any staged here in some time. It is described in pugilistic lingo as a "natural." Efforts to get these two fighters together has been the main business of mid-west promoters for three years.

Both are tough, clever fighters with a "punch." As each is said to be in the best condition of his career, fans are looking for a real "finish" fight, one that will settle all arguments as to supremacy.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS

At Portland, Me.—Pete Lambert, Portland, knocked out Harry Foley of Boston in the second round. Pete Dixon of Clinton, Mass., won decision over Dixie Menard of Biddeford on a foul in the fifth round. K. O. Thorsen of Stamford, Conn., knocked out Jimmy Sullivan of Portland in [illegible] rounds.

At Grand Rapids, Mich.—Johnny Risko of Cleveland and Jack De Mave of New York drew, ten rounds.

This modern age likes the mellow mildness of Camels

TRY Camels and you'll know why they win the modern world. Mildness and mellowness. The smoking wish of this exacting age is realized in Camels. Such taste and fragrance as never came before from a cigarette. A mellow mildness that can result only from superb blending of the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos.

This age demands the best of everything—and it finds its ideal smoke in Camels. Nowhere else can you find such smoothness, such ever-dependable goodness as here—

Morrow County Cage Tourney Opens Friday Night

BOYS AND GIRLS WILL COMPETE AT CARDINGTON

Final Games To Be Played in Levering Hall at Mt. Gilead

Morrow County High School cage ball enthusiasts were all ready today for the opening of the annual county cage tourney for both boys' and girls' teams which opens tomorrow night at Cardington for elimination contests and closes at Mt. Gilead Saturday night with final games being played on the floor in Levering Hall.

A more immediate source of interest is the drawing for opening games scheduled to take place tomorrow morning at the office of County Superintendent W. A. Stage.

Arrangements for the contest with the exception of game schedule have reached completion. Coach Murray of Wooster College and Paul B. Stauger of Delaware have been selected as tourney officials. Silver loving cups and pennants have been purchased for the winners in both boys' and girls' contests. The basketballs used in the tourney are to be the prize for tourney runner ups.

Much Interest

Much interest is being shown throughout the county in the tournament this year. Heretofore, Mt. Gilead has been a consistent winner and has copped championship honors in all but one of the preceding tournaments. Barring dope upsets, a thing not unlikely in cage tournaments, the die of fate has been cast between Cardington and Mt. Gilead in boys' race this year. Honors in preliminary meeting during the present season's schedule has been divided two to one, in favor of the county seat, with Cardington losing the final and deciding match of the series with two regulars on the bench.

It is possible that the career of either of the two favorites may be ended Friday morning at the tourney drawing. A meeting of Mt. Gilead and Cardington in the eliminations Friday gives the latter a decided edge and gives the whole affair a different tone with a third team, possibly Iberia, moving forward as a possible championship contender. If the thing is to assume the orthodox atmosphere and the two leaders are brought together in the finals at Levering Hall Saturday night it will remove many complications from the matter as far as the Purple is concerned and give Cardington an opportunity to see how serious the situation is.

Three teams are conceded to be in the girls' race. Cardington has defeated the Mt. Gilead team twice but at a third meeting the latter easily doubled the score on its successful opponent. Iberia girls are given a place among the possibilities by virtue of a 35 to 8 victory over Cardington.

SEEKS REHEARING ON KENTON GAS RATE CASE

City Solicitor Arthur Tudor Files Application with Utilities Commission

Kenton, Feb. 24—Application for a rehearing on the Ohio Public Utilities Commission decision in the Kenton gas rate case was filed with the commission by City Solicitor Arthur Tudor, it was learned here today.

The application is said to be in effect to have a gas rate lower than the one the Ohio Public Utilities Commission has ordered put into effect here.

Although the order is expected in some quarters, locally, that the rehearing would be granted, no definite word as to the action of the new state commission in the matter has been received here.

At first it was understood that the application of the city was to urge a rehearing on the rate should be granted.

The report of the state commission recommending the increased rates sought by the gas company here, with a minor change in the schedule, is under the city control.

The rate schedule which the gas company was permitted to put in force here, replacing the $1.07 flat rate, ranges $1.25 for the first 100 cubic feet of gas used with a sliding scale downward.

In event a rehearing is denied, the city plans to appeal the case to the Ohio Supreme Court.

Accompanying the petition of the city were recommendations from the Kiwanis Club that a rehearing be granted. The Kiwanis paper was signed by Walter T. Johnson, chairman of the Kiwanis public affairs committee.

Daily Bedtime Story

BY HOWARD GARIS

Uncle Wiggily and His Friends

"Where is that thing I take pictures with?" asked Uncle Wiggily of his rabbit lady wife one morning after the couple play in the Hollow Stump school, where Baby Bunty had taken the part of a Fairy Princess.

"Do you mean your camera?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy who was using a rag on the end of her tail to use as a dusting brush.

"That's it—my camera!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "I am going out and take some pictures of the ice trees. They are beautiful!"

As I told you in the story last night, Jack Frost froze a lot of rain on every tree, shrub and bush of Woodland so that each tiny twig as well as even the large branches seemed to be covered in jewels of ice. Some of these twigs had been used to decorate Baby Bunty and the other little rabbits in the school play. The ice covered twigs looked like diamonds, rubies, sapphires and emeralds.

"Yes, I shall take some beautiful pictures of the ice trees," said Uncle Wiggily as he hopped from his hollow stump bungalow with his snapshot camera. The ice was still on the trees, for the sun had not been warm enough, since the day before, to melt the covering that Jack Frost had fastened on.

"May I come with you?" asked Scooter, a little boy rabbit who did not have to go to school that day on account of knowing his lessons so well the day before.

"Come along," invited Uncle Wiggily, and the two rabbits hopped along, now and then taking long shots, for the ground was covered with frozen rain, just as were the trees and bushes.

Uncle Wiggily took a number of beautiful pictures with his camera. And in some of the pictures of the ice trees he let Scooter stand near them so the little rabbit boy had his picture taken also. Then Uncle Wiggily, taking Scooter by the paw, quickly hopped beneath a large oak tree which was covered with ice on its twigs and branches that it looked as if made from crystal candy.

"What are you standing under this tree for, Daddiemus?" asked Scooter of the rabbit gentleman.

"Hush! Don't speak so loudly!" warned Uncle Wiggily. "The Bob Cat is over there, stalking along under the bushes. He hasn't seen us yet, though I saw him. And I heard, if we just beneath this tree he would not know we were here and then he wouldn't try to nibble my ears."

"Oh, I hope he goes away!" murmured Scooter, putting his paws up to his ears. But it was a vain hope. All of a sudden the Bob Cat, who was wandering along on the ice, spied the two rabbits beneath the ice tree and came toward them.

"I See you!" gurgled the Bad Chap. "I am coming to get you!"

"Oh, please let me alone just this once!" Scooter begged Uncle Wiggily. "Look, look! Uncle Wiggily, look at this beautiful scene!" he begged, as he went to hold nearly three-quarters of an on, waving a paw toward the ice trees.

Uncle Wiggily took a number of pictures.

Copyright on Uncle Wiggily and on Scooter and the Bob Cat.

The two rabbits didn't mind being wet, but the Bob Cat hated water. And he didn't know what was making the rain, being a stupid Bad Chap.

"I'm afraid there is magic here!" he snarled, shivering with fear. "There is no cloud in the sky, the sun is shining yet it is dripping rain. I must hurry home after my umbrella and then I'll nibble your ears. Wait here for me!"

Away ran the Bob Cat, but did Uncle Wiggily and Scooter wait? Indeed they didn't! They hurried home too beneath dripping rain trees and bushes—rain caused by the sun melting the ice. But the Bob Cat, with his sly little tail, didn't know this. So the rabbit's ears were saved.

And if the gas store doesn't think the goodwill is an ostrich egg and try to make an apple pie out of it, it'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's tooth watch.

LOANS up to $500

One of our men brought in a magazine the other day and pointed out an article that seemed to him to fit City Loan policies. It stated that a furniture dealer's success depended upon whether he considered himself a "seller to" or "buyer for" his customers.

Perhaps a part of City Loan success is due to the fact that we consider ourselves "borrowers for" rather than "lenders to" our patrons.
